The 2022 TRICOM Client Conference is Coming Soon!

We are counting the days until September 14th when the TRICOM Client Conference is back! We've been busy with all the activities that come with planning a conference of this size: curating a national-level itinerary of speakers, finalizing meal menus, organizing fun networking events and activities, and more!

This year, we are especially excited to welcome a diverse group of experts in their respective fields from across the country. You may have heard of many of them, seen them present at conferences, or read their articles in industry publications.

The speakers that we've selected to join us in Milwaukee to present to our group are outstanding in their fields, and they are working on presentation topics that are specific to our group's interests.

Did You Know? TRICOM's Client Conference is Going Green!

We are excited to announce that for the first time, the TRICOM Client Conference will have its own app! We're putting the finishing touches together and it will be ready to download in the coming weeks. The app will include the conference agenda, speaker information, and presentation handouts — eliminating the need to print and distribute pages and pages of information. Everything you need will be right at your fingertips! You will also be able to visit the virtual booths of all our sponsors, as well as message with other attendees. The app will be your go-to tool for the conference and all its content. We'll be sending more information and download instructions once the app is live.

New On TRICOM.com!

TRICOM's Industry Insider webinar, The Future of Talent Acquisition and Retention, is now available online! The talent shortage we are all facing is not short-term or cyclical, and it will not be solved by traditional recruiting means. Leading labor market analytics firm EMSI has labeled it as the "sansdemoc," meaning "without people." We are at the beginning of a global labor crisis that many economists and labor experts believe will last decades. So what can we do to adapt and ensure we are appropriately and consistently staffed? Nationally recognized recruiting expert and speaker Tom Erb discusses the current and future state of the labor market, what that means for businesses and the economy, and how you can gain a significant competitive advantage by fundamentally changing the way you approach the recruiting function.
